Synopsis

We are excited to return for our 7th New Perspectives meeting jointly organised between the RSC and DMDG. This year we have selected 2 hot topics which the organising committee feel will be of great interest to members of both groups. Firstly antibody drug conjugates continue to show considerable promise and we will have a series of talks focussing on latest developments in the field. Secondly we will focus on biocatalysis making use of the overlapping expertise between the DMPK biotransformation knowledge and the chemists' experience of novel synthetic routes.

This meeting is a great opportunity to interact with scientists and experts from a different learned society and we look forward to welcoming many of you to London in June.

Confirmed Speakers

Maria Chatzopoulou, UCB

Tools for the structural elucidation of metabolites and applications in drug discovery workflows.

Adriana Savoca, Astra Zeneca

Integration of clinical data and mechanistic model simulations highlights key DMPK parameters for design and selection of successful ADCs.
